

Hour of Code™ @ Home

Follow these links to learn about Computer Science and how to code for free. You can participate during Computer Science week, Dec 7-13 or any other time during the year you want to have fun!!!

Click Here To Access HoC Activities By Grade and Experience Level

1

There are lots more fun Hour of Code™ programs from Code.org you can do at home . Play and code with Moana, Minecraft, Star Wars, Frozen and many others. It's great fun, and you'll learn new coding every step of the way! Do them all!

Find them at <https://code.org/learn>. If you like, you can create your own account – there's always more to learn there.

2

Visit Hour of Code™ in Minecraft. you can learn from different lessons and solve puzzles to learn how to code.

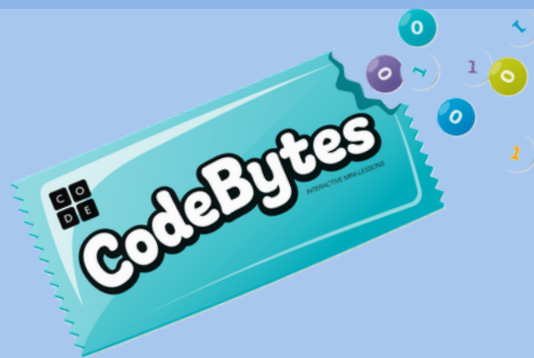

<https://studio.code.org/s/mc/stage/1/puzzle/1>

3

Bring Scratch into your home this year during Hour of Code™! On this page, you can explore an overview of the new Scratch activities for Hour of Code this year.

<https://scratch.mit.edu/projects/editor/?tutorial=all>

4

Try a CodeByte! Designed to fit smoothly into a distance learning plan, CodeBytes are easy-to-digest, 20 minute interactive lessons that will stream during Computer Science Education Week, December 7-11.

<https://code.org/codebytes>